Handelshof makes the difference

Best quality, fair prices and up to 80,000 articles – a warm welcome at Handelshof, your cash and carry store and delivery wholesaler for restaurants and caterers, hotels, commerce and industry.

Your partner for success

TASTE

Handelshof makes the difference.

A warm welcome to Handelshof! With us you can look forward to something slightly more:

more flavour, more freshness, more know-how, more service and more choice. And simply more openness to your requirements. Because more proximity to our customers as well as competent, friendly advice are especially important to us. Allow yourself to be fascinated by our range of products.

Look forward to an unbelievable selection, including the finest meat specialities from our very own butchery, exotic products from our fruit and vegetable section or freshly baked goods from our bakers shop*. Freshly caught specialities from rivers, lakes and the sea are available in our large fresh fish department. Specific items can be selected at all times from an enormous, diverse range of products.

Discover variety, even when it comes to pack sizes: from 250 g of Himalaya salt to a 15 kg bucket of iodized salt. Last but not least, at fair prices – thanks to our broad range of supplier contacts.

Of course, we also provide you with everything you may need for your business – in the departments Haus & Gastro, Living & Lifestyle, La Cucina, Techno Store and at Büro & Co., you can find useful products, stylish décor items, high quality kitchen appliances and state of the art technology.

We look forward to welcoming you at Handelshof.

*not at Bocholt and Güstrow  not at Stade and Güstrow

FRESHNESS

More freshness makes the difference.

Only fresh ingredients guarantee tasty dishes and high quality meals. This is why, at Handelshof, we only provide you with fruit, vegetables, meat and fish, fresh from the garden, field, butchery or sea. Thanks to our short distance logistics you are provided with quality, which you and your guests can rely on at all times.

More flavour makes the difference.

Allow our variety of products to melt in your mouth: thanks to a large range of supplier contacts, we can provide you with a multitude of international, seasonal and regional specialities at any time. And this means unique taste experiences for your clientele. Some delicacies are only available from Handelshof because we are the exclusive sales partner for these selected items.

More service makes the difference.

Trust and satisfied customers do not come easily – you have to work hard for them. This is why we move mountains to meet your requirements. Because providing what's exceptional is our daily bread.

We will gladly order extravagant items for you – and should you want hexagonal chops, our master butcher will see this as a sporting challenge. True to the motto: “What caterers can't find at Handelshof does not exist.”

KNOW-HOW

More know-how makes the difference.

Sylt Royal or Fines de Claires? Of course our staff can tell you more about it than just the price. Because we pay attention to a high level of qualification and training and sound advanced training programmes. In our departments, we provide you with experienced experts such as our wine consultants, master butchers or our trained chefs who are in charge of our fresh products and can assist you with their professional know-how.

More speed makes the difference.

As a bulk consumer, you can enjoy our special service: we deliver what you need – and we do it reliably. We work with a finely-tuned state-of-the-art, goods logistics system which ensures that ordered goods are delivered to you quickly and individually. So you can accurately plan your schedules, save time and energy and are guaranteed genuine fresh quality.

Bulk consumers can easily place orders via the Internet, by phone or by fax and we will promptly set our delivery wholesaling fleet in motion for you. Our vehicles with multichamber cooling systems will deliver tomatoes, salmon or ice-cream cakes directly to your storage area at exactly the right temperature – on time, hygienically and strictly according to HACCP regulations! For our delivery wholesale customers, we create additional individual order charges, which guarantee classification and sorting and therefore faster delivery times. What's more, we regularly inform you about industry trends and new products at our in-house fairs, seminars and customer events.
